

Herbal Aloe Drink

The perfect alternative to carbonated beverages.

Chances are you've been consuming too many soft drinks. Or you've been overindulging in coffee and tea. That adds up to a lot of sugar and caffeine. Drinking too much tea or coffee actually robs your body of nutrients. And a non-diet soft drink contains at least six teaspoons of sugar. And artificial sweeteners? They can actually induce hunger (not so hot for someone on a weight-loss program).

Instead of enduring a temporary sugar rush that leaves you feeling drained or experiencing those awful jitters that accompany coffee, look to Herbal Aloe Drink.

And why is Herbal Aloe such a health-enhancing alternative to caffeinated and carbonated beverages?

Herbal Aloe Drink is a scientifically developed beverage that contains the organic nutrients found in the aloe vera plant. The great-tasting result is a beverage that helps soothe your digestive system and assists the natural self-cleansing actions of your body.*

By taking advantage of the beneficial properties found in Herbal Aloe Drink, you also help meet your daily water quota. Medical experts recommend that you drink at least eight glasses of water each day for the systems in your body to function properly and at peak efficiency.* Herbal Aloe Drink helps you meet that need while also promoting good digestive health.*

Discussion Points

- Herbal Aloe Drink is excellent for persons with high-stress lifestyles: A person who is always on the go or experiencing high amounts of stress is doing a number on his or her stomach. This, in turn, prevents foods from being properly digested and absorbed. Consuming a glass of Herbal Aloe Drink prior to a meal will help aid the digestive system.*
- Herbal Aloe is a real thirst quencher that's also really good for you. Unlike carbonated beverages, Herbal Aloe Drink actually satisfies your thirst. But there's so much more. The aloe vera plant has been hailed as a wonder herb with a staggering variety of uses. Though aloe vera is 96 percent water, the remaining four percent contains 75 known substances, which in combination, are noted for their healing properties. Herbalife has captured the goodness of whole-leaf aloe in this remarkable beverage. Herbal Aloe may be used in conjunction with Herbalife's complete line of nutritional products.

Did you know?

According to the Journal of Alternative Medicine, aloe vera juice is effective in treating inflammation of the digestive tract. In other studies, aloe has been shown to help prevent arthritis and reduce inflammation of the joints.
